

FAST FACTS:

The Flagler Financial District is one of America's true, dedicated urban Districts exclusively devoted to business and financial enterprise.

The District offers a variety of office space and amenities that combine to support the District's businesses and provide the perfect location for corporate and financial success.

The District lies in the heart of West Palm Beach, Florida, the vibrant urban business and governmental center of the Palm Beach region.

The City offers a growing business and financial community with exceptional access to global wealth and international markets.

The District is surrounded by superb restaurants and client entertainment venues and is served by exceptional regional and international travel and transit such as passenger rail, port and international airport.

The area offers some of the nation's lowest costs of doing business, including no state income tax.

West Palm Beach features a dedicated, pro-business government and active, supportive business community, with the City offering relocation incentives for qualified businesses.

The area provides a broad choice of residential offerings in a resort-like atmosphere of superlative shopping, recreation, arts and culture and ongoing calendar of exceptional events.

The City offers custom, executive assistance in relocation consideration and related issues, including District and area tours, business contacts and regulatory fast tracking.
